13 DAYS

Fiji has a handful of properties that operate at a level most of the world hasn't discovered yet. This itinerary takes you to two of them. Nanuku Resort Fiji on the Pacific Harbour coast. Kokomo Private Island in the Kadavu group. Longer stays at each, because the whole point of being somewhere this good is having time to actually feel it.

DAY BY DAY

The approach to Nanuku Fiji from the air. The resort sits on its own stretch of coast, with no other properties in view.

I DAY 1

Arrive at Nanuku Resort Fiji

From Nadi Airport you'll transfer to the Pacific Island Air domestic terminal for the scenic coastal flight to Nanuku's private airstrip. About 25 minutes in the air. On arrival the Nanuku team meets you. The welcome here draws from traditional Fijian ceremony — the kind of thing that sets the tone immediately.

WORTH KNOWING

- Private vehicle transfer from Nadi available if you prefer to drive. About two and a half hours.
- Nanuku sits on its own stretch of coast. No other properties are visible from the resort.
- The resort is built around doing exactly what you want. Start deciding what that is.

Nanuku Resort Fiji at Pacific Harbour. The private island is a short boat ride from the main resort and worth the whole afternoon.

2 to 6

DAY 2 TO 6

Nanuku Resort Fiji

Six nights at Nanuku gives you time to stop thinking about time. Families find the space between the kids programme and the spa. Active travellers head to Beqa Lagoon for diving. Everyone finds Nanuku's private island eventually — sunset cinema, a bonfire, marshmallows. The kind of memory that travels home with you.

WORTH KNOWING

- Beqa Passage diving is world class. Bull sharks in open water, diverse reef systems.
 - Bilibili raft rides through the mangrove forests for something gentler.
 - The Nanuku Spa is worth a dedicated afternoon. Don't leave it as an afterthought.
 - Off road buggy tours run through the mountains behind Pacific Harbour.

The seaplane transfer to Kokomo follows the east coast of Viti Levu before crossing open water to Kadavu. Sit on the left side.

7

DAY 7

Transfer to Kokomo Private Island

After a farewell ceremony that feels more genuine than most departures, a private vehicle drives you to Nausori Airport. Kokomo's private seaplane is waiting. Forty five minutes in the air, skimming east toward Kadavu, and you arrive at the Kokomo jetty where the entire staff welcomes you in song.

WORTH KNOWING

- Sit on the left side of the seaplane for the better view along the east coast of Viti Levu.
 - Kokomo is in the Kadavu group, within the Great Astrolabe Reef system.
 - Everything is included from here. Settle in and stop tracking the bill.

Kokomo Private Island from the air, surrounded by the Great Astrolabe Reef — the fourth largest barrier reef in the world.

8 to 13

DAY 8 TO 13

Kokomo Private Island

Seven nights at Kokomo. That's how long it takes to genuinely decompress. The reef surrounding the island is as good as diving gets in this part of the world. The spa operates at a level that makes one visit feel insufficient. Families with teenagers find the island entertains itself. Couples find the privacy.

WORTH KNOWING

- The Great Astrolabe Reef is the fourth largest barrier reef in the world. Direct access from the resort.
- Manta ray encounters are seasonal. We'll advise on timing when you book.
- Village tours on Kadavu give you a sense of island life removed from the main island.
- Yaukuve Spa Sanctuary — book more than one treatment. You have seven nights.

Last light over the Pacific. The seaplane from Kokomo flies direct to Nadi, tracking up the west coast of Viti Levu.

13

Depart Fiji

The sound of Isa Lei follows you to the jetty. The seaplane flies direct to Nadi this time, tracking up the west coast of Viti Levu. On arrival, the Kokomo team escorts you through to the international terminal. You'll be quiet on the flight home. That's usually what it feels like when Fiji has done its job properly.

WORTH KNOWING

- The seaplane arrives at the Kokomo hangar adjacent to Nadi Airport. A private transition to the international terminal.
- If you need a final night in Nadi before your flight home, we can arrange it.

"Feel it. It may change you."
